BENAISSANCE MOVES TO COSENTRY'S HOSTING SOLUTION TO ASSURE UPTIME AND FLEXIBILITY TO GROW

(Omaha, Ne.) – Executives of Benaissance announced today that it will host its technology infrastructure at CoSentry's Tier IV Data Center to assure the consistency and uptime of production operations and add redundancy to their infrastructure. The move was completed in mid-April and will make use of multiple data centers and multiple points of connectivity while reducing overall costs.

“The CoSentry solution offers us the technology which better aligns with our vision of providing the best possible online experience to our SaaS customers”, said Vik Kodipelli, CTO of Benaissance. “CoSentry's ability to tailor a customized solution to meet our technology and compliance needs set them apart from other vendors. It provides us the flexibility we need in a constantly evolving technology and regulatory landscape.”

In addition to the strength and stability of CoSentry, Benaissance customers will benefit from data center design, resiliency, power, security and technology investments that are present-generation resources which will provide for a much more responsive end-user experience.

The contract calls for CoSentry to provide data processing and network management via a secure architecture that encompasses multiple data centers, redundant processor and storage fabric and high volume network connectivity. CoSentry will also provide disk backup services to support and protect the Benaissance community.

“This is what we do every day for our clients, we leverage world class technology, flexible engineering and managed services expertise to lower costs,” stated Anthony Johnson, Solutions Consultant for CoSentry's central region. He added, “the team at Benaissance was looking for a contemporary design partner and rock solid execution, that's what we strive for everyday. It was particularly enjoyable to work with a team that had a firm understanding of their current situation and future design.” About CoSentry
