Total Sports Entertainment Selects CoSentry to Upgrade Technology Platform

(Sioux Falls, So, Dakota)- Total Sports Entertainment, a leader in promotional and entertainment consulting and software today announced they have upgraded the company's technology platform with the implementation of CoSentry's secure cloud computing network. The move significantly improves Total Sports Entertainment's ability to grow quickly and powerfully as the industry continues to adopt more dynamic web based solutions.

"We operate in a dynamic industry with high visibility clients who expect high performance results, even as technology solutions change frequently," commented Jeanette Ehnerd, general manager at TSE Sports and Entertainment. "Our review of CoSentry indicated that they had the infrastructure, the knowledge and the experience of operating in demanding, high growth industries. Their 10 year track record was also evident in the transition process, executing seamlessly." she added.

The agreement calls for CoSentry to provide the web infrastructure and network management to support Total Sports Entertainment's subscriber based, multi-functional software platform that assists users in organizing all aspects associated with live action sports. This includes event planning, live action events and post game activities.

"We have enjoyed working with the TSE team. This project allowed us to bring the same critical engineering, security and technical expertise we apply to highly regulated industries to a client that requires high availability for their entertainment events," mentioned Jon Fradet, Solutions Consultant for CoSentry. "You can tell their team is accustomed to delivering results, that is, driving hard while remaining completely professional."
